You are holding the latest edition of our catalogue in Japanese and Korean furniture items.

Having lived in South Korea and Japan for several years we have made many valuable, personal contacts. Consequently, we are in a position to offer you traditional Korean and Japanese furniture in excellent quality, imported directly from Korea.

The Korean craftsmen are known around the world for their capabilities. These newly fabricated furniture items are partly copies from original antiques, which nowadays can only be seen in museums. Furniture in Japanese style (Step Tansu, Kuruma Tansu) are copied from originals brought to Korea in the beginning of the 20th century.

The following pages give you an overview of available items, grouped by "theme". We would like to draw your attention to the fact, that the colours in this catalogue are slightly altered by the printing process and invite you to view the originals. Also, it is important to take note of the exact measurements, as the photos are not in proportion to each other.

Discount Offer Traditional Korean and Japanese furniture items

Dear customers and friends of Asian culture

For more than 25 years we have been in business with Traditional Korean and Japanese furniture items on

<https://www.asien-zuhause.ch>

We have now decided to reduce our product line. Therefore we would like to invite you to benefit from our furniture sale and to profit from discounts between 25 % to 50 %.

The offered items are 'single pieces', so they are sold on a 'first come first served' basis.

However, we will continue selling with great passion our other business lines, such as stone lanterns, Ikebana equipment and Ukiyo-e woodblock prints.

Please don't hesitate to contact us to arrange an appointment. You will enjoy even just browsing.

Medicine Chest (Kusuri Dansu)

Medicine chests are the classical Korean furniture items. They have a pleasant look and are therefore highly sought after in the western world. In former times they were used to store medicines, herbs and roots. Even today, pharmacies, using these traditional Chinese medicine chests, can be found in large cities like Seoul.

Every medicine chest is unique and has a different character. There are different styles and variations. They can easily combine with modern furnishings as a contrasting focal point. Drawers in different sizes are often used to store cutlery, keys or stationary items. Medicine chests are the perfect decoration for your home.

Samulnori is traditional instrumental music that has won international acclaim. The term Samul means "four" while Nori means to "play" or "perform;" hence the name Samulnori signifies a performance using four instruments, namely, small and large gongs made of bronze and leather, and double-headed hourglass and barrel drums.

These boxes were formerly used to carry and protect scrolls. Messengers would use these boxes to deliver important documents, which were written in Chinese characters, to their recipients.

An ideal present: Filled with a nice bottle of wine or champagne these scroll boxes have become a bestseller in our present collection.

Kitchen and Drawer Chests

The Korean large chests can easily combine with modern furnishings as a contrasting focal point. You will find plenty of space to store chinaware, glasses, vases and bowls. These chests of diverse size and shape offer considerable storage room. Each piece has an individual character through its style and design. The drawer chests have simple decorations in brass or cast iron and can be used for storing clothes, photo equipment, stamps collection etc. They will be a welcome addition to your entrance hall. An excellent place to hide, out of sight, keys, purses and handbags as you walk in through the door.

Wooden Lamps

Various types of lighting accessories, especially the tunggyongs (lamp stands) using candles were most popular and appreciated mainly by the upper class during the Chosun period while the common classes used oil lamps. Because of the high costs of candle sticks the government restricted the use of candles exclusively to ceremonial or interior lighting in upper class houses. A candle set on a stick was placed inside the lantern. The interior of the four sides of the lantern was finished in silk or rice papers. One side was crafted to open. Today, the same type of lanterns are used with electric lights as a decoration.

The dark wood of these lamps gives a beautiful contrast to the white rice paper. They provide a beautiful and decorative effect in daylight and a warm, romantic light at night.
